Appendix III Registration and post-registration for courses and exams

Article 1: Registration procedure

1. Students are required to register for subjects and examinations on VUnet by fixed deadlines. Results can only be processed for students who are registered for courses and examinations. These deadlines correspond with the structure of the academic year and are published annually on VUnet.
2. Students use VUnet to register for courses and examinations in the programmes on which they are enrolled. A separate procedure applies for students who wish to take courses outside of their programme(s). Information on this procedure is provided on VUnet, www.vu.nl/en/index and/or Faculty websites. The registration procedure for modules such as student placements, the thesis or practicals may differ. If this is the case, the relevant information can be found on the Faculty websites.
3. Students who have registered for courses or examinations and who have decided not to proceed are required to cancel their registration. Students can cancel their registration on VUnet during the set registration periods.

Appendix VI Master's thesis

Each student is entitled to 25 hours supervision time from supervising staff member (henceforth: supervisor) for his/her master's thesis. This includes all of the time that supervisor spends on the student's thesis project - both contact hours with the student as well as time spent reading and evaluating (parts of) the thesis. Within these 25 hours supervision time the student is entitled to hand in two concept versions and one end version of (parts of) the master's thesis. The student will receive feedback on these concepts from the supervisor. Whether partial texts or the thesis as a whole are handed in for feedback is matter of agreement between the student and the supervisor. The final grade will be given by the supervisor and a second evaluator on the basis of the final draft. If the supervisor and second evaluator are not able to reach consensus on a grade, an independent third supervisor will be asked to evaluate the thesis. This third evaluation then decides the grade.

In the case in which a student is not able to come to a thesis of sufficient quality within this amount of supervision, and the supervisor as well as the second evaluator think this cannot be done within a reasonable time frame, an insufficient grade will be decided on. The student receives feedback on the master's thesis one more time with an explanation for the (negative) evaluation. After this the student has two weeks' time to hand in a revision of the master's thesis. During this time, the student will receive no supervision. If this revision is still of insufficient quality, the insufficient grade becomes final.

The student has the right to lodge an appeal with the exam committee against the "insufficient" evaluation.

In the case a student takes the opportunity of a resit, the student needs to complete a new thesis with a different supervisor, on a different subject, unless the original supervisor indicates a willingness to supervise the student for a new master's thesis.
